Summer writing challenge:

Your challenge is to write a letter to someone who inspires you. This can be anyone! From David Attenborough to Formula 1. Using what you have learnt in school about formal letter writing, pick a person or organisation that you would like to communicate your gratitude, admiration or curiosity to. Once you have selected a recipient, write a clearly structured letter expressing why they have inspired you, or ask questions you would like to know the answers to.

Summer reading challenge:

Your challenge is to see how far you can read into a book series! Below, we have listed some recommended book series but you may know of another you want to read!

How it works: start with book from the series one and once you have read that, start book two! Work your way through the book series and count how many books from that series you were able to read over the summer.

- The Nevermoor book series
- The Alex rider book series
- Miss Peregrine's home for peculiar children book series
- Eloise Williams book series
- The cogheart adventure book series
- Amy Wilson lightning falls book series
- A place called perfect book series
- A murder most unladylike mysteries series
